A MESSAGE FROM FATHER

Greetings,

Today we are brought back to the night of the Last Supper. We take our places with the Twelve Apostles, gathered around the sacred table with Christ, Our Lord.

We listen to his words, which are both mysterious and glorious. It is Christ's last meal with his closest followers. He wants to leave them a parting gift.

What is it you may be asking yourself? What does Christ want to bequeath to his Apostles at the Last Supper? The answer is Peace.

"Peace I leave with you; my peace I give to you."

Now what does he mean by peace? Not what we usually think: "Not as the world gives do I give it to you." Christ's peace is lasting. It is interior peace of heart, which overflows into peace in families, in communities, in entire nations.

This is the peace that comes from knowing without any doubt whatsoever that we are loved by him. It is the peace that comes from knowing without any doubt whatsoever that whenever we offend him, he will always be ready to forgive us.

It is the peace that comes from knowing without any doubt whatsoever that we have a purpose in life, a mission - the very mission that Christ himself has given us: to spread his Kingdom.

In today's Psalm it says, "make his way known upon earth; among all nations, his salvation." Only because Christ has given us this peace (by giving us faith in his love, mercy, and mission), he can command us: "Do not let your hearts be troubled or afraid."

If our peace were based on anything else: popularity, wealth, comfort, or power, it would be unstable, because all those things are vulnerable to change. Christ's peace isn't vulnerable, because it's based on his love, mercy, and mission, and those are everlasting. Let us work on this kind of Peace in our own hearts and bring a difference to every person and encounter.

In His Love and Peace, Fr Jim
